

The King County BHO is Launching April 1!

Washington State is changing the way it purchases mental health and substance use disorder treatment for its Medicaid program. To learn more about what this integration means for the King County community and how it will change access and delivery of behavioral health services, join us for an informational presentation and Q & A session.

Choose from one of two sessions. Register Below.

This event is designed for community partners who work with individuals who may need to access publicly funded mental health or substance use disorder treatment.
